

Working with First San Francisco Partners, Healthcare Provider Leverages Collibra as a Catalyst for Stewardship, Data Mesh and Overall Data Literacy

MOTIVATION

A collaborative project between this healthcare provider and Collibra is imperative for the success of the multi-year data strategy. This presentation demonstrates the commitment to implementing Collibra at this healthcare provider and serves as a model for other organizations, especially those in healthcare.

ABSTRACT

This healthcare provider is making significant strides in formalizing its data governance and data management functions, and Collibra is at the heart of this work. This session relays a repeatable model for enterprise Collibra adoption and expansion. It demonstrates how to leverage ongoing strategic initiatives to identify and engage data stewards and capture details related to the most critical data products, such as metrics, reports and underlying datasets.

What our First San Francisco Partners clients are saying:

“Holistic approach — focus on people/culture change and volume of experience to fine-tune a strategy which fits our organization for long-term success.”

Sr. Manager Financial Technology
Mutual Insurance Holding Company

“First San Francisco Partners was incredibly effective in helping our team articulate and gain executive buy-in to a successful data strategy. They rapidly brought together a team of subject matter experts to validate and apply best practices in all areas of data governance, data quality and data architecture.”

Chief Information Officer
Leading Bank

“Within a short time frame, the roles and responsibilities for data governance were clearly defined and understood — without which the company would have continued to spin our wheels and have ongoing miscommunication, leading to inefficiencies and messy data.”

Associate Customer & Market Operations Director
Biotech Company

“I’ve never experienced any other consultant get such a good read on the organization as quickly, have a sense for the things that weren’t being said, and so completely understand the interdepartmental dynamics.”

Director of Information Management
Top-50 P&C Insurance Carrier
